

The Cloud That Carried Dreams

A Peaceful Pillow Story

Snuggle in, take a deep breath, and let the story begin.

Chapter 1    The Cloud Shaped Like a Bed

Bo the bear was almost asleep when something caught his eye.
Outside his window floated a cloud    soft and wide shaped exactly like his favourite bed.

"Hello," Bo said.

The cloud drifted closer.

"Would you like a ride?" it seemed to say.

Bo stepped onto it. It was even softer than it looked.

Chapter 2 â The First Star

The cloud carried Bo up past the rooftops, past the treetops, all the way to the stars.

The first star Bo visited glowed a soft, lemony yellow.

"I have a dream for you," said the star.

"A dream of running through warm summer rain."

The dream came in a tiny glowing bubble.

Bo held it carefully in both paws.
